Carolina Garcia, an UG student, joined FEALAC Youth Conference 2015. A report written by her:

The Forum for East Asia-Latin America Cooperation (FEALAC) is an association of 36 countries from East Asia and Latin America that came together for the first time to form an official and regular dialogue channel between the two regions. Until now, FEALAC mainly consisted of regular meetings held at three levels: the Foreign Ministers, the Senior Officials and the Working-Level Officials. This year however, a new platform was created: The FEALAC Youth Conference. This is where two young delegates of all the fellow countries could come together to further deepen the relationship between Asia and Latin America.

In the inaugural FEALAC Youth Conference 2015 held in Bandung, Indonesia in September, I had the honour of being selected as a delegate representing my country, El Salvador. This was an amazing opportunity, and a huge opportunity to build connections, and exchange ideas with young, passionate people who want to trigger real changes in their respective countries. I want to thank the government of Indonesia for making it possible and my department, CBME, for giving me full support to catch up with missed deadlines and lectures. Last, but surely not least, special thanks to all observers and delegates who made this conference truly memorable.
